August 4th.

My dear Mr Pfeiffer-

I am enclosing the check which I hope is correct.

After you left last evening there seemed to be such a gathering of cars in front of the house that I was worried and finally telephoned to Mr Watson to see if he thought it betokened anything. He insisted on coming right up and I had a little talk with him and then he went out and scouted about among the men. He returned and said that they were all newspaper men but that they did look for anything in particular, simply did not wish anything that might happen.

Mr Watson will come at any moment which is a great to me to know.

I do not like to keep Mr Cosgrove from his regular work any longer so told Mr Watson we did not need him. Do you think I should have someone here? He has done nothing but occasionally answer the telephone for the last three days.

I am going to see Mrs Murray today but will go quietly via the back door.

As ever sincerely
